Message by Parish Priest

My dear brothers and sisters!

In today' Gospel Jesus gives us the message, to be truly religious is to love God and to love the man whom God created in his own image; and to love God and man, with that total commitment which issues in devotion to God and practical service to man.

In a few words Jesus laid down the complete definition of religion. Religion consists in loving God, and man. The first verse that Jesus quoted was part of the Shema, the basic and essential creed of Judaism. This is the sentence with which every Jewish service still opens, and the first text which every Jewish child commits to memory. It means that to God we must give a total love, a love which dominates our emotions, a love which directs our thoughts, a love that determines our emotions, and a love which is the dynamic of our actions. In short a total commitment to God. The natural outcome of such a commitment will be the second commandment. "Love your neighbour." When we love God man becomes lovable.

But the sad, fundamentally simple word that defines the majority of humanity is "if". When comes to tolerating our siblings, our neighbours or our co-workers we put an "if", if only he did not do that, if only he did not say that, if only he did not behave like that.....indefinitely goes on our excuses. We take comfort in the excuse "If only things had been different, and if only people had been different." But things do not need to be different. People do not need to be different. But we need to be different.

When we know what we need to do, when we are able to listen our conscience, When we dare to act as our mind tell us, we will forget all the "if" and the love of God and devotion to God will issue forth in practical service to man. But today, all the knowledge is used to annihilate man; all the resources are used for destructive purposes rather than for constructive purposes. Researches are being held as how to fight against our own blood.

In our houses we plot against our neighbours, in the presence of our children. We speak ill of our neighbours in their presence. We blame one another in their presence. They grow up seeing our wickedness and being part of our evil designs. Therefore, there is no wonder if our children lose the tenderness and sensibility to sympathize with others.

Both the commandments "You must love the Lord your God with all your heart," and "You must love your neighbour as yourself" have great social implications. They should be made visible to others through simple acts of kindness. Eva Gregory says, "Even the simplest form of kind acts can have the most profound effects on someone in need."

Let us keep in mind the words of Charles Haddon Spurgeon "A good character is the best tombstone. Those who loved you and were helped by you will remember when forget-me-nots have withered. Carve your name on hearts, not on marble."

These verses treat of various forms of oppression against the poor and the weak such as the stranger, the widow and the orphan.

Response Ps: 17

I love you, Lord, my strength.

Paul praises the steadfastness of the Thessalonians in the practice of faith which has become known to the people.

Gospel: Matthew 22:34-40

Prayers of the Faithful:

Lord, help us to love you and our neighbour.

पहला पाठ: निर्गमन का ग्रन्थ 22:20 – 26

सक्रिय भ्रक्तुप्रेम की शिक्षा है कि हमें उन लोगों की सहायता करनी है, जो दीन-हीन हैं—जैसे परदेशी, विधवा और अनाथ। ईश्वर ऐसे लोगों के साथ दुर्व्यवहार करने वालों को कठोर दण्ड देगा।

अनुवाक्य: भजन स्तोत्र 17

हे प्रभु! मैं तुझे प्यार करता हूँ, तू मेरा बल है।

दूसरा पाठ: थेसलतीकियों के नाम पत्र 1:5-10

धर्म प्रचार का सर्वोत्तम साधन है विश्वासियों का सदाचरण और भ्रान्तुप्रेम।

सुसमाचार: सन्त मन्ती 22:34-40

येसु हमें याद दिलाते हैं कि ईश्वर के प्रति हमारे प्रेम की कसौटी है—हमारा भ्रातृप्रेम। इन दोनों को अलग नहीं किया जा सकता है। सच्चे मसीही जीवन का मर्म यही है कि हम दूसरों को अपने समान प्यार करें।

विश्वासियों के निवेदन

हे पिता, हमारी प्रार्थना सुन।

REFLECTION

The Pharisees may not have had evil intentions when asking Christ the question as to the greatest commandment. But they have done us a good service by getting this crystal clear answer from him. In this answer he tells us that the man who loves God and neighbor fulfills all his obligations, and carries out all the duties that God's self-revelation in "the law and the prophets" imposes on him. God revealed himself to us in the Old Testament as our Creator and divine benefactor. He had no need of us, since he is infinitely perfect in himself, but out of his infinite goodness he wished to share his eternal kingdom of happiness with mankind and so he created us. That we should love such a benefactor and be grateful to him is not asking much of us; such love should surely be the spontaneous reaction of a rational being, and yet there were and there are many who fail to acknowledge any such obligation.

No Christian, worthy of the name, can ever be among such thoughtless and thankless people. We have greater proofs of God's love for us than "the law and the prophets" gave to the Israelites. We have the added proofs of God's infinite interest in us brought to us by the Incarnation. We have been raised to the sublime status of adopted sons of God.

Where Christians can, and too often do fail, is in their true love of neighbor. Yet Christ says that this commandment is like the first. Love of neighbor is an essential part of our obligations toward God. If we fail in this we fail in our love for God, for we refuse to carry out this sacred duty. If we do not recognize our neighbor as our brother, we do not recognize God as our Father and we do not love him. As St. John puts it: "Anyone who says 'I love God' and hates (does not love) his neighbor is a liar" (1 Jn.3: 20).

Let each one of us ask himself today how seriously he takes this law of fraternal charity and how faithfully he carries it out. Not all of us may be able to give material help to a neighbor in need but the poorest of us can spare a kindly word, an encouraging word, for a neighbor weighed down with cares and troubles. All of us can pray for a neighbor who needs spiritual and temporal help. Most of us can deny ourselves some unnecessary luxuries in order to give a needed loaf of bread to a hungry fellowman, while those who have an abundance of this world's goods need not look far afield to find cases and causes worthy of their Christian charity.

Remember that whatever spiritual or material help is given out of true charity to a neighbor in need, is given to God, and whatever is given to God is soundly invested in heaven, and heaven pays handsome dividends.

आपके ही शब्दों में अनंत जीवन का सन्देश है।”
योहान 6:68

हे प्रभु, तू हमारे लिए क्रूस पर मर गया ताकि हमें जीवन प्राप्त हो और परिपूर्ण जीवन प्राप्त हो। हम अपने पापों को स्वीकारते और स्वयं को तेरे चरणों में सौंपते हुए तेरी दया की भीख मांगते हैं। प्रभु हमारी रक्षा कर कि हम कोविड-19 महामारी से नष्ट न हो जाएं। तेरी असीम दया और प्रेम पर ही हमारा भरोसा है।
