

REFLECTIONS FOR THIS SUNDAY

“6TH SUNDAY OF EASTER”

FIRST READING:-A reading from the Acts of the Apostles (15:1-2,22-29)

This text gives an account of the first general council ever held by the Church -the Council of Jerusalem- and the reason why it was called and its decisions.

RESPONSE :- Let the peoples praise you, o God, let all the peoples praise you.

SECOND READING: - A reading from the book of Revelation (21:10-14.22-23)

We have here another glimpse of heaven as seen by St. John in one of his visions, a description of the heavenly Jerusalem in which the bride of Christ, the elect, will dwell forever with God and with the Lamb, the Son of God made man, who brought them there.

GOSPEL :- A reading from the Holy Gospel according to St. John (14:23-29)

Jesus promises his disciples peace and also promises the Holy Spirit who will enable them to see the full meaning of all that he had said and done.

REFLECTION:

This is another extract from the “Last Discourse” - in effect the Last Will and Testament of Jesus - that John sets around the Last Supper. The greatest bequest Jesus makes to them - and us - is His peace.

The peace He is talking about is not just an absence of conflict or even a bit of peace and quiet. He is talking about something much greater. We don't have one word for it in English - but some people use the Hebrew word “Shalom” to express it. It is that peace we experience when all seems well with the world - inside and outside us. We sense harmony and wholeness - and we certainly don't want it to end!

Jesus points out that the world cannot give such shalom. He is not condemning the world but pointing out the limitations of only looking for this “peace” in things outside ourselves. Shalom comes from knowing ourselves and where we find that sense of wholeness and harmony. For some, it can come with being with family and friends - for others, it can be a concert - or a great holiday. It can come on solitary walks - or in a shared celebration. There are as many ways of finding it as there are people.

The trick is to tune into the feeling of shalom it brings and then savouring it. Store the sense of well-being away as a “soul-memory” and when trials come, you will have a solid core of the peace that the world cannot give - and will be able not to “let your hearts be troubled or afraid”. You will have learnt what Julian of Norwich meant when she said that sin and the pain it causes are part of life - but “all shall be well- and all shall be well and all manner of things shall be well.”
