Message by Parish Priest

My dear friends!

Pope Francis this week invites us to be people who build bridges with those who do not believe or with those who have a different creed from ours. "Always build bridges; always reach out, no aggression." That was the Pope's invitation during his weekly General Audience on Wednesday as he continued his Catechesis on the Acts of the Apostles.

The Pope took his cue from St. Paul as he described this great Saint's preaching before the Areopagus in Athens, the cultural capital of the pagan world. In a city filled with idols, said Pope Francis, Paul proclaims the Gospel by appealing to the religiosity of his hearers and their desire to know the truth.

A call to conversion

The Pontiff explained, that when St Paul sees an altar dedicated to an "unknown god", he states that God, the transcendent Creator of the world, has indeed made himself known, and sent his Son to call all people to conversion and the fullness of truth. Yet, the Pope notes, that when Paul speaks of Christ's death and resurrection, his listeners lose interest and his words arouse mockery and derision in the eyes of the Greeks. But as Pope Francis points out, St Paul's preaching bears fruit in the conversion of some Athenians, including Dionysius the Areopagite and Damaris, who open themselves up to the faith.

Concluding his catechesis, the Pope invited the faithful to ask the Holy Spirit, "for the capacity to delicately inculturate the message of faith, placing a contemplative gaze on those who are ignorant of Christ, moved by a love that warms even the most hardened hearts."

May we all strive to be builders of bridge between people irrespective of caste, creed and religion. May we be able to foster unity among all the peoples.

(((SUNDAY READINGS & REFLECTION)))

1st Reading: Malachi 4:1-2a

Malachi says that when the Day of the Lord comes the wicked and the evildoers will be burned in the oven, but the sun of justice shall rise on those who fear of the Lord.

Response Ps: 97

The Lord comes to rule the peoples with fairness.

2nd Reading: Thessalonians 3:7-12

Some Thessalonians stop working because they wrongly think that the Day of the Lord has come near. Paul commands these people to work and earn their living.

Gospel : Luke 21:5-19

Standing next to the Temple of Jerusalem Jesus foresees its destruction. He envisions a series of events that will follow his death and resurrection.

Prayers of the Faithful:

Lord, make us your worthy witnesses.

पहला पाठ: मलआकी का ग्रंथ 3:19-20

प्रभु के अन्तिम आगमन का दिन दुष्टों के लिए विनाश और आतंक का दिन होगा, लेकिन धर्मियों के लिए सूर्य प्रकाश के समान सुखद प्रतीत होगा।

अनुवाक्य: स्तोत्र 97

प्रभु निष्पक्ष होकर लोगों का न्याय करेगा।

दूसरा पाठ: थेसलनीकियों के नाम पत्र 3:7-12

संत पौलुस अपने अनुभव से हमें सिखाते हैं कि एक ईसाई को कैसा काम करना है और सुसमाचार का साक्ष्य देना है।

सुसमाचार: संत लूकस 21:5-19

येसु के शिष्यों को सुसमाचार के कारण घोर अन्याय तथा अत्याचार सहना पड़ा। किन्तु वे इससे तनिक भी विचलित नहीं हुए। फलस्वरूप वे जीवन के अधिकारी बन गये।

विश्वासियों के निवेदन

हे पिता, हमारी प्रार्थना सुन।

REFLECTION

In today's Gospel, we are reminded that this world will come to an end one day. We do not know when or how, but that end will come. It will be followed immediately by the general judgment. Christ will come in power and glory to judge the whole human race. Each one will receive the sentence he merited while on earth. The just will enter with Him into eternal glory. The wicked will go to their place of suffering, sorrow and remorse.

Long before that day comes, each of us here present today will already have faced his or her own particular judgment. It is this judgment which will seal our eternal fate. It is on this judgment that we should try to concentrate. It is to help and encourage us to do just that the church brings the thought of the end of the world before our minds. The end of this world will come for each one of us when we draw our last breath. How will we stand in God's sight when that moment comes? An eternity of happiness or grief will depend on our spiritual state at that moment.

The thought of death is a frightening thought for most of us. We would rather put it far from our minds, but of all the other things that can possibly happen to us on this earth, death is the one and only certainty. It would be utter folly then to try to ignore it or forget it. It is not the moment or the circumstances or the fact itself of death that matters. The vast majority, even of those dying of a slow illness, do not know that they are on the point of death. What matters is the judgment which follows death. How will we fare in that?

Each one of us can put the following simple question to ourselves this very moment. How would I fare if I were called before the judgment seat of God today? The best of us would certainly prefer to be better prepared. There is so much good I have left undone, so many faults for which I have not atoned properly, so many uncharitable thoughts about my friends and neighbours in my mind, so many acts of charity I kept postponing, so many acts of thanksgiving and praise I have not made to my loving God.

"Today if you hear God's voice harden not your heart" the scripture warns us. Today you have heard Him speak to you. He has reminded you that your end is coming, that you should put your spiritual accounts in order. This is an act of God's mercy. He does not need you, it is you who need Him. Your eternal future will depend on whether you listen to His call today, as tomorrow may be too late. You can put your accounts straight this very day. Why take a risk with your own eternal welfare?

Those who want to die in the state of grace, that is, in the friendship of God have but one way of making sure of this. They have to try to live always in God's friendship. Those who do this by living their Christian life daily need not fear death even if it is a sudden death.
